Level 34: New Intuition

I have been having dreams that include large white dragons. At first the dragons were alive moving around doing what dragons do and then they would appear to be frozen. They would change from alive to frozen in an instant. It was as if we were stepping over a line that was drawn on the sidewalk. On one side of the line the dragons were alive and on the other side the dragons were frozen.

Since these dreams have been going on for a while, we came to realize that the dragons were in what I would call a “scared stiff” state of existence. Then the thought came that the dragons were actually protecting us from something or guarding an access to something.

Now I ask the question, “Why Dragons?” I like dragons; in fact I have a dragon sitting on my desk as I am writing this. Why not Fu Dogs? Diane likes fu dogs. What we found out was that this image can take on any image that you would link to guarding or protecting something. In our reasoning the dragons/fu dogs were going to a frozen state denying us access or protecting us from something. Since these images are coming to us now, it is time to figure out how to get through this barrier (crossing the line) without freezing the dragons/fu dogs and what do the dragons/fu dogs really represent. Below are actual photos of my dragon and Diane’s fu dogs.

During this process of discovery we never know where the process will lead and observe what is going on around us. We started to notice what was going on with our own physical bodies as well as observations of people that are around us. There were times that we were feeling anxiety for no apparent reason. This could be while we were out in public places or at home. This was not in accordance with any fear that was going on in our body.

Another thing we noticed with our physical body that we had various ticks or twitches going on with our fingers, eyelids, various muscles in your arms or legs to the point of leg cramping. This was almost like our body was receiving electrical shocks or experiencing a physical earthquake.

Our ears were experiencing increases in tonal or roaring noises. We had trouble concentrating along with fluctuating energy levels, mood swings, increased visual psychic activity (bug-like movement), vivid lucid dreams, tingling or headaches in a band around the head, sensing or seeing colors or auras (like flames surrounding people), out-of-body experiences or a feeling that you are struggling with “fate” and feeling like everything is going wrong which is the ultimate indicator of BLOCKED PSYCHIC ENERGY. Does anything sound familiar?

What is going on anyway? We didn't have an answer so we started looking at exactly where things seemed “mucked up”... we mapped, charted and logged behaviors, moods, attitudes, wrong decisions, correct decisions, accidental happenings, etc. We have labored over this for literally months... we kept asking for answers and kept getting a plethora of answers... nothing, believe me, nothing made any sense... So we started narrowing down, little by little what was happening. It seems as though something is wrong with our intuition – it is correct, yet incorrect. How can this be? Soooooooooooooo, we checked further... it appears to be correct when we are beneath the grid (the veil of fear) in the lower vibrations, but totally a “crap shoot” above the grid in the higher vibrations. We checked again and again. We listened to our friends and clients relating stories about what is going on in their lives..... we clued into where they were when things went awry.... It became evident that what was happening to us was happening to other folks. So many of us seem to be screaming at the universe – asking what is wrong, what are we doing wrong (or are we doing something wrong), when is it our turn? etc. We began to question our purposes and began wishing and hoping we could “leave”... take our “leave” of all this 3D world. We kept getting the word – intuition... come on, universe, what does this mean anyway? Then finally a few nights ago, the word faulty preceded it... Faulty intuition.... Then -- faulty intuition in the higher vibrations.... Ok, so?????? Guess it is time for us to start looking for answers huh?

Where is intuition located anyway? We know that the gatekeeper (regulator) for intuition is the solar plexus. We know from Candice Pert’s work that every cell has a “thinking part” – a neuropeptide that makes each cell be able to “think”. The color of “thinking” (to us) is yellow – and the yellow color for most of us is highly concentrated around the solar plexus as well as the head... many times much more concentrated around the 3rd chakra. We know that our brain’s logic – thinking - has language but it is also stagnated in the 3rd dimension and cannot operate above the “veil” because much of the information is so multi-dimensional that our brain cannot wrap itself around it. Our intuition’s language is feelings, which has to travel up to the brain to be interpreted and translated into language. If the “gut” feelings (or intuition) comes at a time that we are operating at a high vibration, then, it could be unreliable... Notice the word could, it isn’t always off... sometimes correct, sometimes wrong. It is like having faulty wiring that sometimes works and sometimes gives off sparks and gives you shocks, etc. We also know we all have guardians for our intuition (explained and pictured above)... the guardians protect our intuition as we go through vibrational changes. What has happen? Where is the master keyboard, circuitry, DNA strand or whatever it is called - located for our intuition?

Now for the scientific mumbo-jumbo.

In an article written by a team of individuals from California Institute of Technology published in the Trends in Cognitive Science, we have discovered the following information:

When we interact with another person we create a mental model of how that person thinks and feels. We are likely to have initial, quick intuitions about the person, which are then followed by slower, more reasoned judgments. Intuition uses probabilistic logic whereas deliberation uses inductive and deductive reasoning. Both intuition and deliberation are influenced by emotional value judgments. The Von Economo neurons are an important part of the circuitry responsible for intuition and that these neurons are in some instances dysfunctional resulting in defective intuition.

The Von Economo neurons are large, bipolar cells located in layer 5 of anterior cingulate (ACC) and fronto-insular (FI) cortex. We propose that Von Economo neurons (VENs) relay an output of fronto-insular and anterior cingulated cortex to the parts of frontal and temporal cortex associated with theory-of-mind, where fast intuitions are melded with slower, deliberative judgments. The VENs emerge mainly after birth and increase in number until the age of 4 yrs. We feel that Von Economo neurons, a recently evolved cell type which is thought to be involved in fast intuitive assessment of complex situations, are faulty (frozen) when our essence passes through the Veil of Fear. When you try to intuit things beyond the Veil of Fear, your results were faulty.

The activation of FI and ACC increases with the degree of uncertainty. FI and ACC activity is coupled to situations in which the individual sustains a gambling loss (punishment) and then switches to a different behavioral strategy, implying that in normal subjects these areas are involved in adaptive decision-making and cognitive flexibility. FI is also activated in gambling tasks when the individuals anticipate that their luck is about to change, which is a form of intuition.

Intuition is a form of cognition in which many variables are rapidly evaluated to yield a fast decision. Typically we are unaware of the logical steps or assumptions underlying the process although intuition is based on experience-based probabilistic models. We experience the intuitive process at a visceral level. Intuitive decision-making enables us to react quickly in situations that involve a high degree of uncertainty which commonly involve social interactions. Frequently we do not have the luxury of sufficient time to perform deliberative cost-benefit analyses to determine the most appropriate course of action, but instead must rely on rapid intuitive judgments.

Now, enough of the scientific stuff... are your eyes glazed over yet? We've explained the problem in both metaphysical terms and googled the heck out of trying to find the scientific "seat" of intuition.... We know there is a problem – faulty intuition.... Now what?

We need to upgrade system so when we get the gut feelings above the grid, we have the ability to interpret the information with accuracy. This level involves not only an upgrade, rewiring and a reconfiguration of your system, it also requires a rebooting of your system along with other mumbo jumbo and magical things that we have been shown how to do at this time. It isn't necessarily a long drawn out process but an extremely intense, complicated alteration.

FYI: Just think of all the indigo or crystal children that are already here or being born into this dense earthly environment that already have access and live beyond the veil of fear. Many of these children have difficulty functioning in this environment because they have 3rd dimensional system trying to cope with a multi-dimensional essence. Along with Level 1, we feel this level will help with these children.

The cost for this level will be $999..
