Level 37: Disambiguation Center Point of Energy

Many of you know that one of our favorite places in Seattle is a location in West Seattle called Alki Beach. We had just gotten into our car that was parked, started backing up very slowly, when BAM, it was as if our car was rear ended. This was a blast of energy that hit us and not a physical car. In our normal state of being, which was nowhere near our body, we started to analyze and pay attention to what was going on.

When something like this happens, we always start out by asking a series of questions like, “Why did we need this jolt or jarring to our body? Does this sort of action serve any purpose?” We had an Aunt Faye that used to say to us, “If you’re not good, I’ll BOP you?” This was a gentle hit on the back of the head. Does this action fit our needs in any way?

In the last newsletter we addressed paying attention to what is going on around you and if any of these signs are issues that you need to pay attention to. The purpose for these signs or incidents was to further identify our core or universal beliefs that we, as individuals, need to work on. What emotions come up for you and are you paying attention to them? Our reality is truly being shaken so our personal issues can be addressed as well as bits of information are allowed to come through so this level could start being pieced together.

Another “happening” in the past few weeks was as I was walking by a table display in Barnes and Noble. Many of the books on the table about the various meanings of symbols and symbology because of Dan Brown’s latest book called “The Lost Symbol.” I read a caption on a book, UNLOCKING THE MYSTERIES WITHIN. When I stopped to further look at the book it did not say what I thought is said. The words in white and one typestyle said, UNLOCKING THE MYSTERIES WITH and in a black, larger different font was written SOLOMNS KEY. The next page in Dan Brown’s book, that I happened to be reading, had the phrases, the secret hides...within. The kingdom of God is within you, said Jesus Christ. Know thyself, said Pythagoras. Know ye not that ye are gods, said Hermes Trismegistus. When things like this happen, you need to pay attention.

What we are trying to do here is to share the process of the way we retrieve and develop a new level in hopes that it may help you to develop an awareness to help you understand how information may come to you in bits and pieces to assist you in your journey. It would be nicer and easier if it came all at once, packaged nicely and written in our language or better yet zap a book or manual down for us to read. Unfortunately, it doesn’t happen that way.

So, what happened to us?

- For one thing it definitely brought us back into our bodies. You could call this a major shift in awareness. With the last level of work that came through, we have had a very difficult time staying grounded. In order for us to receive messages from spirit, god, source, or the universe, we have to be in our body.
- Did the second piece of information deal with energy? We were born with a very dense physical body and a finite amount of energy. As we are growing up and older, you have an increase in energy or vibrational rate allowing you to channel more and more energy as you progress through life.
- The third is intent.

What we have discovered is that there is a point in our energy field that dictates how we feel, perceive and behave in our daily life. This location dictates and gives directions to an individual if that point is centered and balanced within that individual. Traumatic events and emotional upsets can dislodge this center point of energy. We have seen this point of energy before and have thought that it was suppose to be where it was located; in fact, we came into this life with this center point of energy off-center. With this center point off-center, you may have experienced any number of disturbances in your psychological or physical health depending on the degree of displacement. Common signs of misalignment are: anxiety, depression, panic, exhaustion, apathy, mood swings, chronic fatigue, chronic stress, introversion, scattered, unable to ground, unable to focus, unable to complete a task whatever it is (simple or complex) or any kind of illness. Also, when this point is off center, you may not receive or translate information you receive from your guides and/or higher self (your intuition)..

By repositioning the Disambiguation Center Point, you will gain a more centered life view which creates the potential for you to live with a more sense of purpose and direction if you choose to.

If you decide to do this level, much more information will be provided after we have repositioned your Disambiguation Center Point. The current position is different for everyone. This is not a onetime process... we have to not only know where your point is currently residing, but have to figure out why and when it was jolted out of position, correct it and make sure it stays in the new position. It will have to be re-trained to stay in the new, correct position. You will receive information as to where it was located and, of course, exercises. Cost will be $678.

$678.00: We were given this number and told to offer this numerology explanation... Evidently, this is important in dealing with this level.  $678/6+7+8=21$  is the root number.... It is pictured as “the Universe”, and is also called “The Crown of the Magi”. It promised general success, and guarantees advancement, honors, awards, and general elevation in your life. It indicates victory after a long struggle, for the “Crown of the Magi” is gained only after long initiation, much soul testing and various other tests of determination. This level blessed with the number 21 may be certain of final victory over all odds and all opposition. It is a most fortunate vibration. 21/3 can be reduced to a 3 which represents idealism. It is the number of optimism, movement, expansion and the Holy Trinity of the body, mind and spirit.

P.S. Definition of Disambiguation Center Point

Disambiguation is a verb used with an object (this time center point) meaning to remove the ambiguity (meaning doubtfulness or uncertainty in regards to interpretation) from the narrative.... Hey, we are “given” the words from the other side... this is our way of trying to understand what in the heck they are talking about.
