

Level 42: Palingenesis, New-Becoming of the Life-Stream

From the time you were conceived, you were born, you came with a purpose, as messenger from the unified field in physical form. The programming was created just for you and everything that you would need was provided in the program and your journey began. The programming is not in the thinking mind, but is in the DNA of each and every cell of your body. Each cell has intelligence, is complete and is programmed. In the beginning, you instinctively follow its wisdom. When you were young, you learned to know what you liked and what you didn't like. You followed your inner instincts and those instincts guided you to happiness, to enjoy life, to love, and to the fulfillment of your needs.

Then what happens? The blockages begin... your body begins to develop, your mind begins to mature and you begin to use symbols to deliver your message. Many living creatures, including humans, communicate with other of the same species, through using symbology. We are programmed to convey our message. If a form of communication or symbology was not in existence, we would create it. Luckily, all around the world humans speak and write in thousands of different languages. We have invented all kinds of symbols to communicate not only with other humans but more importantly with ourselves. The symbols can be through sounds, motions that we make, or writing and signs that are graphic in nature. There are symbols for object, ideas, music and mathematics, but the introduction of sounds is the very first step which means we learn to use symbols to speak.

We are domesticated much the same as a cat or dog through a system of punishment and reward. The blockages continue... We are told that we are a good boy or good girl when we do what the grown-ups want us to do. We are a bad boy or a bad girl when we don't do what they want us to do. There are times when we get mixed signals when we are punished without being bad and sometimes we are rewarded without being good. Out of fear of being punished and fear of not getting a reward, we start trying to please other people.

In human domestication, all the rules and values of our family and society are imposed on us. And the blockages continue... We did not have the opportunity to choose our beliefs. We were told what to believe, what not to believe without the opportunity to question the belief. All the values and beliefs of our nurturing adults were downloaded into our brain. We have developed varying fields of attention or things we are interested in learning. Everything we learn passes through this field of attention, goes into our brain by agreement, and it stays in our mind by agreement. As we fine-tune our interests and our attention grows, our ability to concentrate on single objects or thoughts making it possible to expand our realm of possibilities. The ability to pay attention is the channel we use to send and receive messages from human to human. It is like a bridge from one mind to another mind; we open the bridge with sounds, signs, symbols, touch – using any skill we have developed that hooks the attention of the intended audience. This is how we teach and this is how we have learned.

Once we have mastered the ability of paying attention, our teachers have taught us how to create an entire reality in our mind with the use of symbols. The blockages continue... Our own imagination begins to develop, our curiosity grows stronger and we start to ask questions. We ask and ask and we keep on asking questions; we gather information from everywhere. Remember the “Why” questions with your children, nephews, nieces or grandchildren? I thought they would never end.

A sign that we have mastered a language is when we are able to use the symbols to talk to ourselves in our head. This is when we learn to think, and attach meaning or emotions to our symbology. All of this happens before the age of five.

Think of your life before the age of five. Many people do not remember because of all the blockages that have been put in place at this early age and life continues... Do you remember anything that happened during that period of time in your life? Now I want you to think about your parents and the value system that was put into place by their parents or your grandparents. What was going on in their world when they were between the ages of 0 and 5 years old? What has changed from their generation to your generation? At some point in time, you awaken and begin to question your current beliefs. You become a seeker for truth as it relates to you, expanding your awareness. Unfortunately, time seems to be working against us. Once we start on this quest, everything seems to speed up. If you don't have a sense of how to stay centered and grounded we have a tendency to lose our focus.

We have heard stories that upon death, a person's entire life passes before their eyes. Why would this happen? We have been pondering the purpose of this for quite some time. Does one see every event in one's life or does one see events where they lost a portion of their personal power or energy? I would think that at the time of death, you would want to have all of your power and energy intact for your next mission.

You may wonder what the benefits of this level will be. For one thing, more energy and awareness... For us, we do not want to wait for death to do this final review and reclamation.

We have all worked on clearing blockages in the past and continue to do so. We think everything is laid out in a master plan and the timing right for this one. It is interesting that the final pieces for this level are coming through to us on Easter weekend. Enough said.

Level 42 relates to reclaiming the power and energy that you have lost during this lifetime. Your level of awareness is linked to the amount of power and energy that you have available to you. The ideal condition is... a lot of energy, perfect control and sobriety. You may ask yourself, “How much energy was I born with, and how have I utilized it all my life?” On the other hand, “How am I currently using my energy and what changes can I make?” The ultimate question is, “How can I reclaim the energy and power that I have lost without dying?” Cost: $790.
