

Drs. Loren and Diane Mickelson

www.drsmick.com ---- drsmick@aol.com

Chapter 3: The Key is the Infinite Heart

As with the last chapter of our work, we are learning to align and keep our bodies balanced even with all the emotional drama of the world around us. One of the main aspects of Chapter 2 originated from the Heart. The Heart must be fully opened in order to allow the full flow of energy throughout the system. The Key is the Infinite Heart... It must be fully open in order to allow the full flow of Divine or Creative Energy which will be so intense and powerful that almost anything can be achieved.

It is achieved through the flow of the Infinite Heart Energy and not through the head. As soon as the head or the ego tries to control the process, then the flow cannot proceed. The manifestation of miracles is blocked. What results is a feeling of being in “limbo”, as though nothing is happening in your life. You are creating the energy “dead-ends” by not being willing to accept the miracles that happen in your life. Your rational mind says – no, this is not possible – and so you close off the energy and refuse to allow the manifestation. You live in a place of seeming nothingness, when you could be in a place of great richness and abundance if you would just allow your heart to lead you there. All that is required is that you let go and just experience what you need to feel and cease always needing to judge and analyze with your head and then react with your ego.

Your ego is not a bad thing, it just needs to be trained to work in harmony with the heart and allow the heart to be the primary leader. In the past so much of your energy went into resisting what you truly desired to manifest and what the universe desired to give you, that you exhausted yourself trying to hold old programs and beliefs in place. With your heart fully open, only then, will you enter fully into your INFINITE HEART and you will be able to manifest your desires.

In this chapter of work, we open the Infinite Heart.

With the fall equinox, the energies have begun to accelerate more and more as we move towards the 11:11:11 (November 11, 2011). Everything on earth is defined by a numerical configuration. Master numbers accentuate the meanings of single digits. They are considered to be some of the most powerful vibrations known. They are thought to symbolize raw untapped potential. This numerical energy is waiting to be harnessed by those who have the eyes to see. The numbers are an optical downloading... the eyes are an extension of the brain and when the eyes see these magic numbers an encoding is activated in the brain. As the brain adjusts to these new energies a lifting occurs allowing the individual heightened awareness and use of untapped gifts.

When you experience the numerical downloads no matter what kind, stop for a minute, and allow this energy to be birthed through you. Focus on your deepest desire and see it as manifest. The universe has just taken a picture of your thoughts. Empty yourself of any preconceived notions and let the light sew up the frayed edges of your intentions. Each and every number within your personal universe is triggering your subconscious into a new pattern.

Within 11, 111, or 11:11:11 lives all answers and even more questions. Eleven teaches us every problem comes as a divine opportunity to learn. It shows us how to see beyond what is everyday and boring. It tries and tests our faith and our belief system. It forces us to listen to that small still quiet voice within the silent witness. It reminds us we are all vast beings who have come to earth to help with the healing and awakening process starting with ourselves. It asks you to locate the light within and share it with all. Eleven is our best friend and teacher. Eleven is the gateway to “all that is” riding within a hair of instantaneous manifestation. Eleven asks you to let go of fabricated manifestations and to come fully into your own ability to Create within your multi-dimensional intervals of thought.

With this chapter we also help open your multi-dimensional eyes to be more aware and receptive to downloads...

In a way, this opens the doorway to a new way of seeing and new light of understanding that is blanketing us at this time. With the Infinite Heart more open, the light is surrounding us and is helping us to dissolve and break our bonds that were stuck in the old traditions and old energy and to be more open to the new ways of seeing and being. We are creating an energy in which the new can be born in more powerful ways, a new energy in which those who will be here to help can enter and be listened to. Much that you have believed could never change is changing, for all is energy and you have changed the energy needed in order for these old issues to function. You will embrace the new ideas with love for you are beginning to see that there are better and higher ways of doing things - ways which include all and not just a select group deemed worth by the false standards of old energy beliefs. There still will be those who continue to hold to what is finished and will have a difficult time of it, for they are “beating a dead horse” and we will step back and honor their path.

Our lesson is that we need to hold to the truth of our beings. Let the truth of oneness with Source and therefore all that is be more manifest in our thinking. Let Truth be our first thought before any human thoughts or taking steps for action. By learning to see in this way, we will start to begin to change our way of thinking and soon our state of consciousness. We must practice knowing the truth. Truth is, but it must be recognized and then become an attained state of consciousness before it can manifest. Realize the truth of all things and the non-reality of anything that would seem to be a power. There is only One Power and that is Divine Power which is ever-present within us. There is only One Presence and that presence is where you are, always. There is only One Knowledge and that knowledge is where you are at all times for it not only is within you, but is you.

The goal is the realization that you are that which you seek. It is time to begin to live, move and have your being in Truth; to let it be your first thought, your first realization, and your first response. Then if there are human footsteps to be taken, you take them, but always with the realization that there is Divine Law of love and wholeness in place that nothing can over ride or change. Divine Law is infinite but mankind living in the shadows of the third dimension, has not known this.

All energies that appears so frightening and so negative at this time, simply manifests as old energy that are moving up and away. You are now becoming ready and will start beginning to see beyond these appearances. You are beginning to know and understand that the Divine is the substance and creator of all things and therefore all true creations are of love and harmony. Appearances of discord and evil are creations of the un-illuminated mind imbued with beliefs of good and evil; mind simply forms the outer, from the state of consciousness of the individual.

For a long time, lifetime after lifetime, mankind has been creating manifestations of good and evil through their ignorance of truth and beliefs in duality and separation, but we are graduating now. We have evolved enough to be finished with the harsh lessons of the third dimension. It has been difficult to find the truth of who we really are in a world that is heavy with the energy of duality and separation. We have found truth even with an active veil of fears and in the presence of duality and separation. We are continuing to awaken and discover that our real nature is Divine, in spite of any appearances that may seem to contradict that.

With this work, you will be moving very quickly into an energy where the old issues will no longer affect you or will no longer be. They simply cannot have form in the new energy because you will not be creating them. Your illumined states of consciousness will now manifest as higher and truer appearances.

Remember; do not be fooled into looking for third dimensional “good” for good appearances are just the other end of the duality stick from bad appearances. The spiritual lesson is to move beyond concepts of either good or evil and into the spiritual. Divine Being is complete and whole, your attained consciousness of this then translates as what is needed. You do not need to tell it what you need, It is Omniscient and as your consciousness of this deepens, and your experience will reflect it. This is why your form of meditation is key. In meditation you are resting in your realization of oneness with the Divine, whereas in the common idea of prayer, you are telling an Omniscience Divinity what you need which is separation and duality. This does not mean that you cannot state your choice and your intentions, but you do it from the consciousness of free will choices, not from a sense of your good being outside of yourself.

There are a lot of things out there that are ready to change. Do not fear, but hold to your center and always make Truth your focus in spite of the hundreds of untruths bombarding you at this time. We say be informed but do not mire yourselves in the news and words of doom and gloom for this will pull you down into the heavy frequencies present within them. Keep yourselves separate by keeping your energy fields filled with Light, clearing yourselves with Light often during the day. Cease from the struggle and rest in what is...

The New Human crystalline body and matrices needs to be aligned with the new earth's crystalline matrices in order for us to receive information and communicate with all that we will be connected to. (Read the last sentence again so you can better understand where we are going next.) As we are fumbling around getting use to our new-human crystalline body we need to be fully aware that the new earth is also going through the same thing. What we need to know is that we will need to connect to the New Earth's crystalline matrix grid and not the old earth's matrix grid. The old world dealt with polarity, good versus evil, etc. The interconnecting points of the new earth's crystalline grid will be fully protected by vortices, or force fields of energy so as to secure the portals to the new earth dwelling spaces from those who are not yet fully reconnected and operating from a place of pure Infinite Heart resonance.

This is not a separation based tactic, per se, but rather a safeguarding of sacred creation as well as forces of protection for those who are not yet prepared to handle such high frequencies. These interconnected grid points will serve as the bridge portals for souls to walk over, both for souls who have ascended into triality consciousness to access duality and for those ascending duality consciousness to access triality.

These portals will serve as anchors of higher dimensional energy for the dismantling world and offer healing to those who feel called to serve. It will be up to those who have entered fully into triality consciousness to act as the gatekeepers and to work with these sacred portals in a way that will support the new-human and the new-earth.

For those of you who are already participating with these sacred portals between dimensions, you will be coming together with many more to broadcast these energies in physical locations that support the bio-energy dynamics required to uplift humanity to a sacred level of coexistence.

So with the above information we feel we also need to include with this chapter of our work, an expansion of Level 2 which deals with the old multi-dimensional worlds of negative beliefs and matrix. This way it will help you to align easier to the new-earth's crystalline matrix or grid.

So what will we be doing with this chapter of work...

1. Open the Infinite Heart

2. Opening your multi-dimensional eyes
3. Expansion of Level 2 to include the old multi-dimensional worlds of negative beliefs and matrices.

Cost for Chapter 3: The Key is the Infinite Heart is $740.00.

So, this chapter will allow you to channel more light and stay balanced in trying times, see and receive more coded messages, actually "see" more than you can even imagine and help you to align your crystalline matrix to the earth's crystalline matrix.